Coffee grinding tips

Grind coffee in small batches as you need it. Ground coffee will become stale if stored for too long.

Experiment with grinding times to get the best result: Coarser ground coffee (shorter grinding time) is best suited to percolators. Medium ground coffee is best for filter coffee makers. Fine ground coffee is best for espresso makers.

Never grind spices in your coffee grinder, use a separate grinder for your spices. The flavour of the spices may affect the flavour of your coffee.

CABLE STORAGE

The coffee grinder includes a cable reel built into the base to enable the cable to be stowed when not in use.

Stowing the cable

Turn the cable reel in the direction shown to wind the cable into the base of the grinder.
