

Collection Notice

At Woolworths Group, we care deeply about your privacy. And that means giving you what you need to make informed choices.

We want to make it simple for you to understand how we collect, use and share your personal information, so please read on to find out more.

How and why we collect personal information

We collect your contact details, which may include personal information such as your name, email address and phone number so we may:

- communicate with you about a security weakness (vulnerability) you have identified
- publish your name (or alias) as subject to your consent in relation to identifying the vulnerability
- conduct investigations in cases of fraud or data security risks or to improve our business generally, including by monitoring or recording our interactions with you for training purposes.

Depending on how you deal with us, it's possible we may need to collect other types of personal information necessary to conduct our business.

Sharing your personal information

Woolworths Group collects personal information for the purposes stated above.

We may need to share your personal information with other parts of the Woolworths Group, as permitted by law or in the context of any legal proceedings to which we are a party.

Computing and commerce are now globalised and consequently we may sometimes need to share personal information overseas, for instance while using cloud computing services. Please see our Woolworths Group Privacy Policy for more information on sharing personal information.

Your rights

If you have an enquiry about how we collect, use or disclose your personal information, you can contact us by email at privacy@woolworths.com.au or by telephone on 1300 908 631. Our lines are open Monday to Friday 9:00am to 5:00pm (AEST).

Alternatively, you can write to the Privacy Office: Woolworths Group Limited, PO Box 8000, Baulkham Hills NSW 2153.

Visit the Woolworths Group Privacy Policy for more information on marketing communications, how you can access or correct your personal information collected by Woolworths or make a complaint about a privacy matter.